The engagement of Miss Matie P. McCoy to Mr. Ira C. Painter of Zanesville was announced Monday at a breakfast which was given at the McCoy home on East Mulberry street. Covers were laid for seventeen. Small envelopes at each plate, which were opened with the second course, contained the announcement in verse. American Beauty roses formed the handsome table centerpiece, and the dining room was fragrant with roses and syringa. The announcement presages a July wedding. Both Miss McCoy and her fiance are well known in educational circles. ## JEANETTE FORD HAS HYSTERIA

Cincinnati, June 2—Mrs. Jeanette Ford, under indictment for attempting to blackmail Charles R. Warriner, now in the pen, for stealing $25,000 from the Big Four railroad aroused the people in the neighborhood of her home today with loud screams for help. Police found her in a fit of hysteria, declaring that all her friends had deserted her. She was removed to a hospital.

Mr. William Evans, the Church street undertaker, celebrated the anniversary of his birth on Saturday of last week, and that the event was not forgotten was evidenced by the fact that over forty of his friends sent cards congratulating him and expressing the wish that he might live to celebrate many more anniversaries.

ARMSTRONG—MARTIN.

A pretty wedding marked by extreme simplicity was that solemnized in Trinity Episcopal church at eight o'clock Wednesday evening when Miss Verona C. Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Martin of Evans street became the bride of Mr. Charles W. Armstrong son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Armstrong of Roseville and office manager of the Swisher Cigar company.

No formal invitations were issued but a large number of the friends of the young people assembled in the church at the appointed hour to witness the betrothal and marriage service. Miss Martin entered the church from the sacristy and looked beautiful in a white eyelet embroidered batiste robe with trimmings of Baby Irish lace and she wore a white lace bonnet adorned with pale pink and carried a bouquet of pale pink roses.

Immediately following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong went at once to their cozy home which they had previously furnished at 311 Hudson avenue where they are now at home to their friends. The bride is one of Newark's beautiful and accomplished young women and has lived here the greater part of her life during which time she has won many friends who wish her much happiness. Mr. Armstrong, although he has been a resident of the city only since last August, has also made many friends here especially among the business men, who heartily congratulate him.

HOUSE—WILLIAMS.

At the home of Mrs. Evan Williams, 115 South Fifth street at half after noon Thursday morning, Rev. Thos. H. Warner performed the fine ceremony of the First Congregational church which united the lives of Miss Maud Williams and Mr. George House, the well known fireman at the North Newark fire department. The parsons were artistically attired for the occasion with roses, carnations and greenery. The bride were a dainty creation of white chiffon and embroidery and carried American Beauty roses and the only attendant of the couple was the bride's nephew, W. H. Lamp, Evan Richard, who carried the bride's bouquet and presented it to her at the altar.

A wedding breakfast was served after the ceremony to immediate relatives of the contracting couple, who were the only witnesses of the ceremony, and the bride's table was beautiful in its decorations of American Beauty roses and silk.

At noon Mr. and Mrs. House left for Cleveland where they will remain for a week and upon their return will reside with the bride's mother in South Fifth street. Both Mr. and Mrs.

John Jones furnished some fine music on the phonograph. Mr. Shaw received several useful presents. All departed late in the afternoon, wishing Mr. Shaw many more happy birthdays.

On Wednesday evening Miss Claudia Williams of high street entertained with a miscellaneous shower out of compliment to Miss Maud Williams, whose marriage to George House was solemnized this morning, and significant of the coming event a clock was suspended from the chandelier with the hands designating ten-thirty o'clock, the hour of the marriage, and on the reverse side was the date, June 2nd, 1916, and the bride's name, Mrs. George House. The evening was spent informally and after a shower of American Beauties was given Miss Williams a large basket was brought in bearing the many mysterious looking packages in the center of which was a toy house. During the evening Miss Williams also received many congratulatory letters from absent friends.

At a late hour the guests were seated at one large table artistically decorated with American Beauties and partook of a delicious repast. In the party were Miss Maud Williams, Mrs. Alice Jackson, Mrs. Wm. Richards, Mrs. Elizabeth Williams, Misses Alice Riggs, Bernice Fleming, Rose Jones, Ida Henry, Grace Williams, Ethel Frye and Anna Dase.

DICK HAS NOT FORGOTTEN

Senator Dick handed out a hot shot to his political enemies in his statement claiming the regularity of his endorsement for re-election to the Senate when he said: "While a legislature would be guilty of either a felony or misdemeanor in violating the instructions implied by a primary vote, to do so would be to bolt a party nomination, and political history shows that constituencies hold such violators to a strict accountability."

You see that Dick hasn't forgotten the first Hanna senatorial contest in which he played an important part.

TAFT WANTS RELIEF.

When it came to selecting a private secretary to succeed Fred Carpenter, who fell a victim to the epidemic of political "ill health" that is raging at Washington, it was made known by President Taft that he wants a secretary who can be a sort of "assistant president," one who can "relieve him of all the minor details of the executive office."

Evidently President Taft wants more time to travel and play golf, while the people dig and grind under the weight of "the best tariff law ever enacted by the Republican party."

Two years from now the people will pick out a man who will relieve President Taft of all the details of the executive office—an Ohio man who can play golf and travel some but doesn't put in all his time at it a man who attends strictly to business and looks after all of the details of the executive office of the Buckeye state.

SOME OF THE DISSATISFIED

The Piqua Call, a Republican paper of the g. o. p. organ type, gave vent to its distress in these words: "Governor Harmon's record is not in harmony with really high and pure politics."

Well it must be admitted that Governor Harmon's record has been a sore disappointment to Hy Davis, W.
S. Rogers, "Field Marshal" Phipps,
Mark Slater and some other gratters.

RAINBOW CHASERS ARE NEEDED

Winding up a tearful appeal for the rejection of all the Ohio g. o. p. congressmen in picking a chairman, and urging the selection of somebody "with the breeze of the morning in every utterance" to sound the key note at the g. o. p. state convention in Ohio this year, the Ohio State Journal says: "So let us drop the tweezers and pick out a man with the embrace of a rainbow."

That's good. That's fine. The g.
o. p. will surely need a lot of rainbow chasers in Ohio this year.

AMUSEMENTS

KEITH VAUDEVILLE

style comedy athletic sketch. Whirlpool and Gell, an eccentric German comedy couple. The Three Musical Comins—a comedy electrical musical novelty, one of the best musical acts that will ever show in this city. The two Starlings, those eccentric singing and dancing comedians. The Cudlins' comedy in "Stung." This act is a regular show in itself.

Look for the advertisement tonight—see if you can find the unmissable word and receive tickets to Friday's show. This is limited to the first five people.

REAPING BENEFIT

From the Experience of Newark People.

We are fortunate indeed to be able to profit by the experience of our neighbors. The public utterances of Newark residents on the following subjects will interest and benefit thousands of our readers. Read this statement. No better proof can be had.

C. L. Starr, 89 Hancock St., Newark, Ohio, says: "I have had no desire to retract anything from the public statement I gave in 1904, recommending Doan's Kidney Pills, as the cure they effected at that time has been permanent. I suffered for years from kidney complaint and backache, and although I used numerous remedies, I was unable to obtain relief. I had a constant pain across my loins and when I attempted to stoop, my suffering was always increased. My back was weak and if I sat in one position for any length of time, it was almost impossible for me to arise. Hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box at Crayton & Co.'s Drug Store and was surprised by the prompt relief they brought. They quickly disposed of the backache and improved my health. I am always glad to say a few words in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills."

Has It Ever Occurred to You?

That advertising means everything when backed by facts? Take the Cornell Clothing Parlors as an illustration. It is a recognized fact that whatever appears in a Cornell announcement is absolutely true in every respect. Their great claims of superiority over any other product in the town are positively true. Why, then pay at least fifteen in other stores when Cornell Suits at ten are even better? Why then pay twenty or more, when Cornell garments at fifteen are better?

That's the question. Answer it if you can.

STATEMENT OF JUDGE SEWARD ON BOTTLE THROWING

Speaks From the Bench, After Closing Court Thursday Morning News of the Courts.

After opening common pleas co. this morning, Judge Chas. W. Senn said:

"I have something that I desire say from the bench. Yesterday, during the trial of a case, one of the witnesses was assaulted in the corridor of the court house.

Last night a beer bottle was thrown through the window of my house.

Some months ago a gentleman whom I know very well, came to me on the street and said to me, 'You had better be careful, Judge, they are after you.' I said, 'How do you know?' He says, 'I was in a place of business here in this town, and they were trying to raise a subscription there to hire a man to assault you on the street.'

"I simply wish to say, in all kindness and fairness, and dispassionately, that I am not going to be drawn from the bench, nor from my home by any nocturnal desperado, or by anyone else. I am going to do my duty fearlessly, as I see my duty, regardless of consequences. It will not be worth while for these gentlemen, or otherwise—whether they are or not—to attempt to intimidate me, because that cannot be done. I want it understood, distinctly, that I propose to do my duty, fearlessly and regardless of consequences.

"My house is where I ought to be permitted to live in safety and security."

"As I say, a beer bottle was thrown through the front window with considerable force. The cap is still on the beer bottle, and it evidently had beer in it. I haven't any use for it. I want to say, too, that my house is there, and I would be glad to have any gentleman call there at 1 o'clock and show him the condition of affairs there."

She denies absolutely that she knows where her husband is; that she knew anything about the slaying of the child; that she had received the quicklime alleged to have been delivered to a woman at St. John's church by Peter Herbst last December. Herbst picked her out from three women in the matron's room at the jail as the one who got the quicklime from him and paid for it.

PURSE WITH $50,000 RECOVERED IN LOBBY

Minneapolis, June 2.—Stepping out of an elevator at the West Hotel on the way to his room, John M. Morris found a pocketbook containing certificates of deposit, checks, papers and cash worth $50,000.

Realizing that the owner of the pocketbook, like himself, a traveling man, would be temporarily absent from the lobby of his small office, Mr. Morris first examined the pocketbook, then went to the desk, and decided to see J. D. Simons, of Bovee, Morris. This was the name on the back of the paper.

When Mr. Simons appeared and was handed the pocketbook, he offered to tell on Mr. Morris, but he asked Mr. Morris to accept it in trust in favor of his customer, say a $1,000. He told Mr. Morris that to return $100 out of $50,000 was enough for any man who should lose his pocketbook.

Mr. Morris accepted the ring. It is a seal ring and fits Mr. Morris nicely. Mr. Simons then opened his pocketbook, took his person and took the train back to Butte.

MITCHELL HOME ROCKED BY VANDALS WEDNESDAY EVENING

One of the mostстырьly and the front of his residence, 56 North Second street, shattering the large glass and doing some slight damage to the room.

The family was aroused by the crash of broken glass and the Judge investigated. He found the large front window was broken, the window blind was torn down and the contents of the bottle, which was broken, stained the carpet in the living room.

There is no clue to the one who threw the bottle but the matter has been reported to the police and Chief Zierriebel said that every effort would be made to discover the person or persons guilty of the outrage.

The work of the vandals at the Mitchell and Seward homes is evidently that of irresponsible persons whose mandarin or depraved brains which conceived the outrage could be used to better advantage in cracking stones for a year or two behind some prison wall.

Attorney Mitchell has been active in prosecuting alleged infractions of the option laws before Judge Seward and it is thought that some person in sympathy with the "wets" chose the above manner to vent his spleen against the "drys."

The leaders of the liberals deplore the incident, well knowing that such actions cannot help but injure their cause and they will assist in using every means at their command to run down the offenders.

NEWARK DOG GOES VISITING

Johnston Daily Times

Master McMurphy, the well known dog, is the possessor of a large wad of money, which he accepted him his own master the first of the week. Mr. McMurphy was walking along the street when the dog came up, made friends with him and followed him home. He is a splendid specimen of the bulldog breed and is from Newark as far as we know. He is wearing a large brass studded collar bearing the dog tag number of 616 Newark, Ohio. Mr. McCurry is caring for the dog until the owner appears to claim his property.
